Issue 10-A

October-2022

Convention Information

Heads Up....

The Federal Way Performance and Events Center has very strict rules about food and drinks on the premises. Basically, do not want to have illegal substances there and insist upon selling all food and beverages themselves. They will allow everyone to bring empty water bottles into the venue and there are several water stations for filling them. They will sell full water bottles, snacks, sodas, wine, beer, and spirits during the contest, assuming we will go along with it.

LODGING AVAILABILITY....

The district made the decision to have a fall Evergreen District Contest and Convention as a Barbershop Reunion of Friends allowing every chorus and quartet to participate in some fashion without any prior qualification. This was successful in attracting the membership, but it resulted in more people coming to the area than anticipated. La Quinta, the headquarters hotel, filled up rapidly and the other hotels that had agreed to a special rate closed their program more than a month before the event, leaving many people without a nearby room. We have tried to negotiate with other hotels with no luck. The best we can suggest is to do an online search of the hotels in Federal Way and the surrounding area and settle upon one.

I have not been able to find a good spot for those of you with campers or RVs as Dash Point State Park seems to be reserved well in advance and I don't know of any other campgrounds nearby. Wall Mart is across the street from the PAEC, but they have said they will not welcome overnights in their parking lot. There is another lot across the street from the PAEC just south of 314th and north of a Korean restaurant that apparently will allow camping at your own risk. As there is a homeless problem all over King County, I would feel more comfortable if everyone found a hotel room with a comfortable bed.

Young Members in your Chorus...

Has your chapter been blessed with a new member? A younger member? An active social media member?

The Evergreen Communications team would love to meet them. We are planning an upcoming ZOOM discussion to learn from these new members. How they found you, why they visited, and why they became members. This will provide Communications with better ways to reach these members and keep them engaged.

We'd like each chapter to provide us with the name of your newest youngest member. If you can provide the name before Contest, we could meet them in person and invite them to participate. What can we learn from these new members that will help grow your chapter? The Evergreen team is working toward chapter growth through communications.
